On Monday Evening arrived the Duke of Cumberland Packet Boat, Captain Goodrich, in 42 Days from Falmouth, by whom we have the following Advices.

LONDON, May 27.

THIS afternoon three ships belonging to his Britannick Majesty cast anchor in the road
of Elsinore, viz. the Southampton, Commodore Macbride; the Seaford, Capt. Davis; and the Cruiser, Captain Cummings. They are to convey her Danish Majesty to Stade, in her way to Zell.

A Lady belonging to the Danish Court, came this day to Cronenbourg, to receive the young Princess Louisa Augusta from the Queen her Mother. Her Majesty soon after embarked for Stade.

May 28. A grant passed the great seal to Samuel Martin, Esq; of an annuity of one thousand two hundred pounds.

A new invention has lately been discovered at Leith, for working black silk or white thread lace in a loom, to imitate any pattern whatever, to any breadth from three inches to three quarters of a yard, and almost to any fineness.

It appears, by a letter of Mr. Sampson, of whose escape from Barbary mention is made, that an edict or proclamation, had been published, by the Emperor's order, with a penalty of 4000 ducats to be levied upon any person that should visit him or be visited by him; and, also, a prohibition to his servants to procure him provisions; so that, had he not providentially made his escape, he must have actually starved. The cause of his ill-treatment he principally attributes to the Gov. of —, who,
instead of passing the presents sent to the Emperor
thru' his hands, the proper channel, had sent them in his own name, and by his own authority, by which the influence of the Consul was weakened, and the dignity of his office entirely destroyed.—
The reason of this seems to be, that he was appointed in opposition to the governor, who had recommended another candidate.—The worst effect, however, of this ill timed misunderstanding is, that many unhappy British prisoners must linger in miserable bondages, without relief, till matters are again accommodated.

May 30. By the latest advices from Madras, there is an authentic account, that war is again declared against the King of Tangour, after being suspended for some time. The pretence is to prevent the French from making themselves masters of that kingdom on a dormant claim of an old debt;
but the real cause is by some attributed to avarice
of the council, who expecting either to be recalled, or to have their power abridged, were determined to strike a bold stroke, in order to enrich themselves
by the plunder of an opulent Prince before the alteration happened.

The same advices speak of the total overthrow of Heyder Ali, and of a revolution in the government of the Great Mogul.

The recruiting serjeants belonging to the E. I.
Company have received orders for raising 3000 recruits on this occasion; and many are gone to Scotland and Ireland for that purpose.

Advice has been received that the Portuguese subjects on the coast of Brazil had revolted; and that, when the ship that brought the news left Rio de Janeiro, the insurgents were in arms, and preparing to give battle to the King's troops.

Every one has heard of the frequency of murders all over Italy; but the following account from Naples exceeds any thing of the kind that has been known in the memory of man:—Two artizans, who happened to be drinking together in that city, quarrelled in their cups, and one of them with a filleto laid the other dead upon the spot. A soldier, who was present, and saw the deceased, who was his friend, drop, snatched up a knife, and plunged it into the breast of the murderer, who with the filleto in his hand pursued the soldier; but, not being able to overtake him, he stabbed every person that came in his way. He soon laid seven dead in the street, and wounded many more. Exhausted at length with the loss of blood, he fell down, and a priest coming to his assistance, he reared himself up to stab him, but expired in endeavouring to strike the blow.

31. A violent storm happened near Breteuil, in Normandy, attended with such a heavy rain, that nine or ten villages were in a few hours overflowed.
The inundation was so sudden, that a shepherd and his flock were swept away by it.

June 8. Came on, before Lord Mansfield, the long expected trial between Mr. Townsend and Mr.
Hunt, collector of the land tax; when, after hearing council on both sides, Lord Mansfield told the jury, that the question before them was, in fact, no other, than "Whether there was any legislative power in this country?" If they acknowledged there was, then they must find for the defendant;
and, in less than two minutes after his Lordship had done speaking, the jury found for the Defendant accordingly.

June 9. This day his Majesty came to the house of Peers, and gave his royal assent to several bills,
after which his Majesty was pleased to make the following speech,

"My Lords and Gentlemen,
I CANNOT put an end to this session of parliament, without expressing the satisfaction I have felt in observing the temper, and the prudence, which have governed all your deliberations during the course of it, and without returning you my particular thanks for the fresh proof you have given of your affectionate attachment to me, in the additional security you have provided for the welfare and honour of my family.

"I can with great pleasure acquaint you, that the dispositions of the powers of Europe give me the strongest reason to believe, that this nation will not be disturbed in the enjoyment of the blessings of peace.

"Gentlemen of the House of Commons,
I thank you heartily for the supplies which you have granted with so much cheerfulness and dispatch, for the ample provision you have made for every branch of the publick service; and I see with pleasure and approbation, that you have at the same time been able, by a proper disposition of the publick money, to make a further progress in reducing the national debt.

"My Lords and Gentlemen,
I make no Doubt but that you will carry into your respective countries, the same principles, and the same zeal for the publick good, which I have experienced in you in Parliament; and that you will continue to exert your best endeavours to cultivate and improve a spirit of harmony and confidence amongst all ranks of my faithful subjects; let it be your constant care to convince them, that, without a due reverence for the laws, and cheerful obedience to just authority, neither their civil nor religious rights and liberties can be enjoyed in comfort or security; and to assure them that I consider their interests as inseparably connected with my own, and that I am, and ever have been persuaded, that the prosperity and glory of my reign, must depend on my possessing the affection and maintaining the happiness of my people."

Then the Lord Chancellor, by his Majesty's command prorogued the Parliament to Tuesday the 11th day of August next.

June 10. The banking-house of Mess. Neal,
James, Fordice, and Downs, stop'd payment.
Other failures have since happened in consequence of the former. The consternation at first was general throughout the City; but by the spirit of the Merchants, and the timely interposition of the bank of England, the numerous bankruptcies that were expected have been prevented, and trade restored to its former channel.

There was a meeting, at the Spanish Ambassador's, of all the foreign Ministers, when a paper was signed by them, in order to be transmitted to the Secretaries of State, in which they engaged on their faith and honour, to suffer no goods, of whatever kind, to be brought from abroad under their sanction, but what is for their own immediate use.

June 1. Mr. Ernst, who now has the care of the British affairs at Copenhagen, is a young Gentleman of Saxony, but educated in England, under the Rev. Dr. Dodd; he is not yet twenty years of age, but possesses abilities of such magnitude, and a solidity so uncommon, as sufficiently entitle him to the distinction he has received, and promise, at some future period, to shine with extraordinary lustre in the political hemisphere.

Letters from Paris say, that 15,000 musquets of a new invention, are finished at Vincennes; they fire 15 times in a minute, carry 900 paces, and weigh nine pounds.

The Commission of bankruptcy against a certain Baronet's house will, it is generally thought, be superfluous; and many even talk, that after satisfying all just demands, there will not only be a redundancy of 100,000, but an estate of 40000, a year.

Sir George Colebrooke and Mr. Arnold Nesbit, are gone to Dublin with a large sum of Money, we hear to support a bank which they have in that city, and which in the present state of public credit cannot be placed upon too solid a foundation.

June 11. The madman who formerly cut trees in Kew Gardens, made an attempt, as it is supposed, to assassinate his Majesty, in his way from one garden to the other at Kew. He was, however, fortunately discovered by a treasonable paper he had put into the key hole of the garden-door; and being apprehended three loaded pistols were found upon him, and a clasp knife, with which he wounded one of the keepers of the madhouse, from whence he made his escape, in the belly.

June 12. This morning Mr. Long, private Secretary to Sir Robert Murray Keith, arrived at St. James's from Copenhagen; since which it has been reported, that he has brought with him a refutation of all the crimes laid to the charge of the unfortunate Queen, signed by his Danish Majesty's own hand.

The Imperial and Russian Ambassadors have been recalled from the Court of Versailles.

The News of Mess. Neale, Fordice, James, and Down, having stopped payment, was received at Edinburgh, just 43 hours after it happened at London. Edinburgh is distant from London about 425 miles.

June 16. A Squadron of sixteen French ships of war, most of them vessels of small burden, lie at break ready to sail at a minute's warning. They are victualled for three months, and are said to be destined to cruise in the channel to exercise the men.

June 18. At a chapter of the most noble order of the Garter, held this day at St. James's, Lord North was invested with the ensigns of that renowned Order, after which his Lordship gave a splendid entertainment at his house in Downing Street.

Sir Robert Murray Keith arrived at Deal. He left the Queen at the palace of Goerde, 60 miles from Stade, in the Hanoverian dominions. Except at parting with her Children, which was truly affecting, she seemed in very good spirits, and so continued during the voyage.

June 19. At a Court of Common Council, the motion was confirmed to give the Sum of 4000, towards the relief of the sufferers by fire in the Isle of Granada.

Authentic advices have been received at Court, that his Prussian Majesty has actually taken possession of Polish Prussia.

June 22. It is beyond the power of words to describe the general consternation of the metropolis at this instant. No event for 50 years past has been remembered to have given so fatal a blow both to trade and public credit. An universal bankruptcy was expected, the stoppage of almost every banker's house in London was looked for. The whole city was in an uproar; many of the first Families in tears. This melancholy scene began with a rumour that one of the greatest bankers in London had stopped, which afterwards proved true. A report at the same time was propagated, that an immediate stop of the greatest, must take place. Happily this report proved groundless; the principal Merchants assembled, and means were concerted to revive trade, and preserve the national credit.

The Court of the Kings Bench gave judgment in the case of Somerset the slave, viz. that Mr. Stuart his master had no power to compel him on board a ship, or to send him back to the plantations. Lord Mansfield stated the matter thus: The only question before us is, Is the cause returned sufficient for remanding the slave? If not, he must be discharged. The cause returned is, the slave absented himself, and departed from his master's service, and refused to return and serve him during his stay in England; whereupon, by his Master's orders, he was put on board the ship by force, and there detained in secure custody, to be carried out of the kingdom, and sold. So high an act of dominion was never in use here; no master ever was allowed here to take a slave by force to be sold abroad, because he had deserted from his service, or for any other reason whatever. We cannot say the cause set forth by this return is allowed of by the laws of this kingdom, therefore the man must be discharged.

June 23. This day the city's solicitor signed judgment of disfranchisement in the Mayor's Court against the master and wardens of the three refractory companies, among whom was Mr. Alderman Plumb; but in the afternoon the recorder set the judgment aside, in order, as alleged, to give the parties an opportunity of trying the merits of the cause at large.

The subscription of Bachelors of Arts at Cambridge to the 39 Articles was this day removed non con. Instead of it is substituted the following declaration: I A. B. declare, that I am, bona fide, a member of the Church of England as by law established.

June 24. Came on at Guildhall, the election for Sheriffs for this city and county of Middlesex for the year ensuing, when Alderman Oliver, and Watkin Lewis, Esq; were returned; but a poll was demanded for Alderman Plumb. Alderman Kirkman who was likewise a candidate, declined the poll, telling the livery at the same time, that whenever they should chose him, he should be ready to serve them.

June 26. Came on before Dr. Bettsworth, in the Prerogative Court, Doctors Commons, the final pleadings relative to the citation of Lady Warren against Sir George her Husband, for cruelty, and thereby requiring a separate maintenance, and separation, a mensa et thoro; when after a hearing of 11 hours, the Judge thought fit to dismiss the citation, in favour of Sir George Warren, the defendant.

There is an account from Spain, that a dreadful earthquake had almost destroyed the fine city of Manila, capital of the Philippine Isles, in the South Sea.

June 30. The Moors have commenced hostilities against the Dutch, by taking a merchant ship from Amsterdam within sight of Gibraltar. Other accounts say, they have taken above forty ships belonging to the Dutch, and carried the crews into slavery; and that a formidable squadron from Flushing is just upon the point of sailing in order to make reprisals.

The dispute which subsisted between the Emperor and England, has been amicably adjusted by the prudent conduct of the Governor of Gibraltar; and the officer employed in the negotiation has brought with him some captives from Tetuan, whose ransom he paid. Another Confal will be immediately sent in the room for Mr. Sampson.

Much has been said of a new voyage for discoveries, in which Mr. Banks, Dr. Solander, and M. Zofani were to be embarked; but some objections having been made to the fitness of the ships appointed by government to perform the voyage, the same, it is said, will be wholly laid aside.

Sunday evening his Serene Highness the Prince of Piedmont, arrived at the house of the Sardinian Ambassador in Lincoln's-inn-fields, from France.

It is reported at the west end of the town, that in some conferences which one of our Secretaries of State, had lately with the ministers of two great northern powers, his Lordship having pressed closely for certain explanations, could obtain no satisfactory answer. And we are assured, by a respectable correspondent, that no intimations on our part, will have the least effect on that quarter. These powers having determined to persevere in such measures, as will be the means of establishing the peace of that part of Europe, on the most permanent and respectable footing—as they are pleased to term it.

Whatever may be asserted to the contrary, there are letters in town which say, that military and naval preparations in France are by no means suspended. At Brest in particular, there are at present 12 men of war of the line, several frigates and bomb-vessels, most of which have undergone a thorough repair this spring and summer, and may be made completely ready for actual service within a fortnight.

Letters from Cairo say, that Ali Bey has caused several exemplary acts of justice, to be executed on those leeches the curse of all States, and of their species too, who by monopolizing, and other arts, enhance the necessities of life.

They write from Madrid, that a number of Jesuits, to the amount of 170 persons, were seized by order of the government, in a convent of the Carmelites, at Almanza, on the 2d instant, and imprisoned. Some of the principals are already condemned to die.

Extract of a Letter from Vienna, dated June 10.

An exact account of all the Imperial troops now in Poland, is handed about here, by which it appears that our young and favourite Emperor has actually 50,000 forces already in Poland, besides nearly an equal number who are on their respective marches for the same kingdom, from the different districts of Bohemia, Silesia, Hungary, and Transylvania.—The several Polish districts which the Emperor's troops have already taken possession of, extend from Zater on both sides the river Weichsel, all along Red Russia, Pecutia, and Moldavia, quite to the mouth of the Black Sea: and Mr. Janus, first engraver to the Imperial Court of Vienna, has engraved and published a map of these new acquired dominions under the name of N. S. Hungary; it consists of twelve capital towns, besides 180 villages, adjoining to Silesia only, without comprising those numerous other towns and villages in the provinces of Red Russia, Pecutia, and Moldavia, in which last mentioned province General Haddick is to have his head quarters.

Extract of a Letter from Amsterdam, June 23.

Your two last favours of the 16th and 19th instant, like many more advices, bring us terrible work among the principal class of Merchants. No wonder, indeed, they should avail themselves of whatever valuable effects they can get at, in order to convert them into money. Such are the precarious consequences on all occasions of distress and stagnation of paper credit. Yet, alarming as your accounts appear, the principal houses here are determined to weather the storm, especially now we find the GREAT PILLAR on our Exchange stand their ground very coolly and firmly. This material circumstance, when known on your side the water, will, no doubt, operate towards mending the stocks, seeing the fall in your funds, which seems to have been occasioned by some groundless reports respecting a certain house here. I have sent you the prices of your stocks, as they were done this day on our Exchange, by which you will perceive that we are not sorry that some rotten sheep in your pastures have been forced to fly away, and no longer infect the sound flock.—India, 225 1-4th, Aug. Bank 151 1-4th, ditto; South Sea, 100 1-8th, ditto; 4 per Cents. 94 1-8th, ditto; and 3 per Cents. 90 ditto.

Extract of a Letter from Warsaw, June 6.

According to the last advices from Moldavia the different encampments of the great Russian army commanded by Count de Romanzow, will be formed in such a manner, that in case a peace should not be concluded, the army may be able to assemble again in a short time, in order to pass the Danube. Moreover the Russians still occupy the towns of Isacchia and Tultscha, and their light troops make incursions 60 werstes up the country beyond the Danube. The revenues which the principalities of Valachia and Moldavia bring in to the Russians, amount to 1,400,000 crowns.

General Haddick arrived the 23d of May at Epirius, to take the command of the Imperial troops destined to march into Poland, consisting of 12 regiments of foot and nine of horse. It is certain that 800 Austrians have already taken possession of Ducia; and that another corps of 6000 men are marching towards Halicz.

It is currently reported here that a certain Court endeavours under hand to protract the negotiations for peace at present carrying on between Russia and the Porte, in order to make advantages of it.

Letters from Vienna say, that on the 3d of last month the Emperor was struck with a fit of the palsy, and was confined to his chamber.

Saturday Morning an eminent Barbary merchant shot himself, at his house at Rotherhithe.

Lord North on hearing of the numbers affected by a late failure declared, that a particular law was necessary for the regulation of bankers.—“The gentlemen in that business, said his Lordship, should be considered as criminal not as unfortunate when they fail, and punished for committing a fraud upon their creditors. They receive a benefit from every man's cash which is placed in their hands, and are no less ungrateful, than dishonest, when they sport with the property of other people.”

Extract of a letter from Warsaw, June 10.

“Within this post we can give but little news, but great matters may be expected very soon. The General of the Confederates, Zarembo, wants to capitulate as well as many others; but the Russian Ambassador sent them for answer, that the door of capitulation was shut up, they should have come sooner, which so irritated the Confederates that they will fight to the last, and the consequences may be fatal.”

Extract of a private letter from the Hague, June 23.

“The letters from Saxony cannot find terms to express the extreme degree of misery and want that prevails in that Electorate, especially towards the mountains, where whole villages are deserted by their inhabitants, in quest of food, and the immediate necessities of life.”

Extract of a Letter from Cowes, June 20.

This day arrived off here the following men of war, viz. The Royal Oak, the Centaur, the Terrible, the Worcester, with the Augusta yacht. They are to hover about till they are joined by three more men of war and three frigates, to sail for Plymouth, but we cannot learn where this fleet is bound to afterwards, neither do the Captains know, as we are informed, for they are not to open their Commissions till they get into a certain latitude; they have taken on board four months provisions, and before they leave this isle will be joined by two bomb ketches.”

The day that the Duke of Gloucester left Rome, the Chevalier Charles Stewart arrived at that place, with his new married consort, who made their public entry in quality of King and Queen of England. On this occasion, the Nobility of all ranks went in crowds to compliment their Majesties upon their arrival. What is particularly remarkable, the Chevalier and his consort, by way of royal etiquette, actually received the Cardinals sitting.

Several precious monuments of antiquity have lately been found in the remains of the ancient city of Herculaneum, among which are some vessels for culinary purposes, made of fine copper lined with silver; which shews that the antients were not unacquainted with the pernicious qualities of copper respecting Health, nor unmindful of providing properly against their ill effects.

It is said that General Conway will be appointed Commander in Chief of his Majesty's forces in North America, in the room of General Gage, who is to return to England.

May 23. Died, John Friend, Esq; of Dublin, brother-in-law to the noted Dudley, who was said to be concerned in setting fire to Portsmouth dock. By his will, Mr. Friend has bequeathed his estate of 2500l. a year to Dudley's children, except 300l. a year, which he has left to his sister during life. She married without the consent of her friends, and her brother never would see her till a few days before his death.

Dover, June 26. Mr. Fordyce, the Banker, embarked at this place for Calais on Monday last.

Berlin, June 13. His Prussian Majesty arrived the 4th instant at the camp near Marienwerder, and the same day began the reviews of nineteen Regiments of infantry, and some of cavalry, which continued till the 8th, when his Majesty set out on his return to Potsdam, where he arrived on the eleventh by dinner-time. The Prince Royal who accompanied the King on his journey, has obtained his Majesty's leave to remain in Prussia till the end of the month; he proposes visiting the greatest part of that country, and even making excursions into Lithuania.

Dantzic, June 13. All our lands, even the most barren, have an appearance of producing a plentiful harvest, the Manifestos of the Courts of Vienna and Berlin relative to their motives for sending troops into Poland are impatiently expected. The towns of Tolkenit, Braunsberg, Graudentz and Elbing are each of them occupied by a Battalion of Prussian troops.

GRENADA, July 4. Last Wednesday, a sum of money was distributed among the most necessitous of the sufferers by the late fire, and another dividend will be made as soon as the money expected from London arrives; there being, by the latest advice, above 5000l. sterling subscribed in that capital, for the above charitable purpose.

CHARLESTOWN, (South-Carolina) July 30. A Sloop from New-York, Captain Stout, bound for Pensacola, and laden with flour, &c. was cast away about the 24th of last month, upon the Bahama Bank. The Captain and crew finding it impossible to get her off, took to their boat, and were taken up by some Providence wreckers, who afterwards fought for the vessel in vain, so that it is thought she must have gone to pieces.

WILLIMASBURG, July 30. At a meeting of the governors and visitors of the college on Monday last, to make choice of a President, the Rev. JOHN CAMM, was elected into that office, and sworn in accordingly.

ON the first Day of the last Term the high Sheriff of the City and County of New-York, returned into Court a Panel of the Grand Jurors summoned for that Service. Upon calling the Panel over the following Persons appeared, to wit, Isaac Low, Peter Keteltas, William Ricketts Van Cortlandt, John Schuyler, Samuel Broome, Isaac Roosevelt, Peter Clappier, Nicholas Roosevelt, William Beekman, Thomas Witter, Henry Roome, Gerrard W. Beekman, Jeremiah Brower, Gerardus Duychinc, Peter T. Curtin, Abraham Van Alstyne, and Patrick McDavid. The Court appointed Isaac Low Foreman, and administered to him the following Oath: "You as Foreman of this Grand Jury shall diligently inquire and true Presentment make, as well of all such Matters, Articles and Things that shall be given you in Charge, as of all other Matters and Things as shall come to your Knowledge, touching this present Service: The King's Council, your Fellows and your own, you shall keep secret: You shall present no Person for hatred or Malice, neither shall you leave any one unpresented for Fear, Favour or Affection, for Lucre or Gain, or any hope thereof; but in all Things you shall present the Truth, the whole Truth, and nothing but the Truth, to the best of your Knowledge. So help you God." The same Oath was immediately afterwards severally taken by the rest of the Jurors. On Friday the 31st of July, the Grand Jury came into Court and delivered to the Judges a Presentment against the Mayor, Recorder, and Aldermen of the City of New-York, in the following Words, "City and County of New-York, sh. The Jurors for our Lord the King, for the City and County of New-York, upon their Oath present, that the Mayor, Recorder and Aldermen of the City of New-York, suffer divers Inroads upon the Streets of the said City, particularly a Shop of J. Simnit, Watch-Maker, and two Windows of Isaac Heron, Watch-Maker, near the Coffee-House, the Windows of James Rivington, a Shop and Window in the Possession of J. Bailey, a Window in Possession of James Youle, a Window in the Possession of Richard Saule, and many others, which the said Magistrates might discover, if vigilant in their Duty."

It is necessary the Public should be informed that the several Windows mentioned in the preceding Presentment, are Glass Windows, such as are commonly used in large Towns and Cities by Milliners, Stationers, Watch-Makers, &c. in order to expose their Merchandise for Sale, to the View of Passengers, passing and re-passing the Streets; that none of these Windows extend above two Feet in Front, of the several Houses to which they belong; and not one of them so far into the Streets, by at least three Feet, as Stoops, Balconies, Sheds, and Piazzas do. It must also be observed, that in most Parts of the City there are Posts fixed in the Streets, in Front of the Houses, at the Distance of at least ten Feet, in order to prevent Carriages from injuring the Stoops and Pavements before People's Doors. The City is also covered with Sign-Posts, descriptive of the Persons Employments, by whom erected, and before many Houses are Trees planted, for the Use, Ease and Convenience of the Proprietors. These are all Inroads upon the Rights of the Corporation, and equally with those of Bow Windows, yet not one of the latter was presented. Every Thing projecting from Houses into, or standing upon the Streets of this City; such for Instance as Bow Windows, Stoops, Balconies, Piazzas, Sheds, Silver-Smiths Boxes, Trees, Posts and Signs, are in fact Inroads upon the Rights of the Corporation, if they judge proper remove: But as Stoops, Trees, Glass Bow Windows, &c. are neither prejudicial to the Inhabitants, or detrimental to Passengers in passing and repassing the Streets; the Magistrates for the Ease and Convenience of the several Proprietors have always tolerated such trifling Buildings, tho' really Inroads upon the Rights of the Corporation, because they appeared to them as no Ways injurious to the City, a Convenience to the Inhabitants, and the Glass Bow Windows as being rather ornamental than otherwise; was this Attack then upon their Characters in presenting them as not Vigilant in their Duty, a proper Return for such an Indulgence? Had the Magistrates exerted their Power and removed the Bow Windows, which by the by are no more inconvenient to the Citizens than Stoops, Trees, &c. and left the latter standing? Would it not have been called a wanton Exertion of their Power? Would it not have been complained of as a manifest Piece of Injustice? as ill-nature? and rank Partiality? The more I think of this Presentment, the more I am astonished; by what Principles the Jurors were actuated I am at a Loss to discover: Malice or ill-will could not have been the Principle, for a due regard to the Grand Jurors' Oath must have divested them of all Prejudice; they were sworn to be impartial; I am therefore amazed that a Glass Bow Window, the Property of G - - - d - - - y - - - k, one of the Jurors, and in his actual Possession at the Time of the Presentment, should be left unnoticed; Charity obliges me to hope forgetfulness was the Cause. But pray Gentlemen of the Grand Jury, why was the Windows of Heron, Rivington, Sawie, Youle, Simnit and Bailey, particularly pointed out, and the Mayor, Recorder and Aldermen presented for suffering them as Inroads upon the Rights of the Corporation? When 200 more, at a moderate Computation, and some of them standing in almost every Street in Town, and built upon the same Construction, omitted? Permit me also to ask you whether every Stoop, Post, Piazzas, Tree, Shed and Balcony, erected and standing upon the Streets of this City, is not an Inroad upon the Rights of the Corporation? The Question must be answered in the Affirmative. They certainly are: I must then further ask why were six Bow Windows presented, and 200 others, with all the Stoops, Posts, Trees, &c. left unpresented? I take it for granted that there was neither Malice, ill Nature, Prejudice, Favour or Affection in all this. G. W. B - - - k - - - was palpably an Inroad upon the Rights of the Corporation, by having erected Posts before his Door, almost in the Middle of the Street—These were not presented—Is a Bow Window extending two Feet into the Street an Inroad upon the Rights of the Corporation? And a row of Posts standing at the Distance of twelve, not? Were not K - - - t - - - e, C - - - p - - - r and C - - - t - - - s Grand Jurors? Had they not inroaded upon the Streets? That they had is a Fact not to be denied. Why were their Inroads not presented with those of the Bow Windows? A Question or two more Gentlemen, and I am done: Pray how came it to be asserted when in your Deliberations about presenting the Mayor, Recorder and Aldermen, that immortal Honour would be gained by the Grand Jury, if such a Presentment could be found; and that Pretence made use of as an Argument to prevail upon the Jurors to find the Presentment? And lastly, whether the Persons who made Use of such an Argument were governed by Ambition, the Sake of Popularity, or by that solemn and sacred Oath, which only four Days before, they had called God to Witness, should be the ruling Principle of their Actions, in discharging the important Trust, with which they were then invested as Grand Jurors, for the City and County of New-York?

A CITIZEN.

NEW-YORK, August 20. Capt. Munds sailed from Lisbon in company with the Captains Martin and Bennet, for Philadelphia, and Capt. Shaw of this port; and the Captains Wallace and Carson, for Philadelphia, sailed about a week before him.

The 7th inst. in Lat. 32, 40, Long. 69. Capt. Munds spoke with the ship Fisher and Friendship, of Leith, William Forrester Commander, 12 days from Georgia, bound to the Grenades, who, 5 days before fell in with a Schooner from Edentown in North Carolina, Capt. —, bound for Providence, with corn, beef, pork, &c. but was in so leaky a Condition; having received some damage on a bar on the coast of Carolina, that Capt. Forrester took the crew on board his ship, all but the Captain, who died in the schooner the day before, having lost his sight by means of the stench of the corn, as did also all the crew for some Days. Mr. Boyd, the supercargo, was very ill on board the ship, but it was hoped would recover; that the stench was so great in the schooner that Capt. Forrester's people could take no provisions out of her, therefore Capt. Munds generously supplied them.

We hear from Lisbon, that his Prussian Majesty ordered his Minister at the court of Great Britain to inform his Britannick Majesty, that in case he sent a fleet against Copenhagen, he would immediately march his whole army into Hanover.

Capt. Youngs from the Bay, 16 days off the Havannah, spoke with Capt. Wood, from the Bay, for Boston, all well.

Moore, Askey, Crane, Goddard, and Stringer; most of whom will shortly be loaded, as there are now, and have been for some time past, floods in the Rivers."

Sunday last the ship Samson, Capt. Coupar failed for London.

In the above ship went passengers, Mrs. Needham, wife of Mr. Needham, of this city, merchant; the Rev. Mr. Lambertus De Ronde, Doctor Gray, and Mr. Chevat.

The Brig—Captain Tingley, failed from Falmouth for this Port one Week before Captain Goodrich, and was seen by him, as he thinks, at Sea, the 18th of July, Lat. 43, 11, Lon. 29. On the Passage, Captain Goodrich spoke the following Vessels, viz. July 29th Lat. 29, 36, Lon. 45. The Sloop Rebecca, Captain Rogers, of Rhode Island, with another Sloop, the Nancy, her Companion, in sight. They had been 11 Weeks out, and had taken 3 Whales between them.—Friday, August, 14th in Lat. 37, 45, Long. 60, spoke the Sloop Speedwell, Captain Holman, 4 Days from Rhode-Island, bound to the Grenades. August 15th, Lat. 38, 26, Long. 70, spoke a Sloop, Captain Codwise, 3 Days from New-York, bound to St. Croix.

Yesterday, from Messieurs Totten and Crofield's Yard, was launched a fine new Ship, burden about 220 Tons, called the Grace, to be commanded by Captain Chambers; intended for the Bristol Trade.

This Ship is esteemed one of the most complete Vessels, of her Burden, that this Port has produced, even by the masterly Hands of these Builders, who seem continually to improve upon their own Workmanship, and to attain still higher Degrees of Perfection.

Which are to be sold at the lowest prices, at his store in Queen-Street, near Burling's-Slip, where he gives the best prices for Linen Rags, according to their quality and fineness.

When it is considered that the above paper and other articles manufactured here, make a clear saving to this country or all the money that would have been sent out to purchase them from abroad, it is hoped that all those who really wish to promote the interest of America, and of this country in particular, with which their own interest is closely connected, will contribute their aid to the success of this undertaking, which cannot be effectually done without a constant care in saving and supplying him with those linen rags, which are generally destroyed or thrown away as useless, tho' they are absolutely necessary to a paper manufactory, which cannot be carried on without them.

To add to the difficulty of procuring a sufficiency of rags, considerable quantities have been collected here and sent to other colonies, whereby their manufactories have been supplied, to the injury of our own, with this material article:
And tho' the legislature have not yet thought proper to prohibit the exportation of it, yet it is hoped a due regard to their own interest will incline the inhabitants of this country to supply a manufactory among themselves, preferably to those of another colony.

men paper-makers.

LONDON, April 5.

At midnight two violent shocks of an earthquake were felt at Lisbon, which lasted two minutes, and alarmed the whole city. This earthquake was preceded by the howling of dogs, and the melancholy crowing of cocks. The inhabitants of the country are well acquainted with these kinds of presages. Immediately was heard a subterranean noise, with howlings and whistlings, as in a great storm. This was followed by an horizontal shock, and that by another, still stronger than the first, which shook the houses for two minutes, which is a long time under such circumstances; but, what is most wonderful, little or no damage was done by this earthquake.

May 2. The following sums were voted towards raising the supply for the present year, viz. 1,856,731. out of the surpluses of the sinking fund, and 20,000. out of the monies raised for defraying the expenses of the American colonies, &c.

The whole amount of the surpluses and savings, including the 400,000. paid by the East India company, till last April, amount to 2,527,860. out of which 1,500,000. of the national debt is to be paid off, as is already declared.

The revenue of this kingdom amounts this present year to no less than 6,327,000. Before the revolution the annual revenue was estimated at less than two millions.

Alderman Richard French was this day elected Mayor of Dublin, and Joseph Lynam and Harcourt Lightburne Sheriffs, for the year ensuing.

A drum-major, dressed in regimentals, preached a sermon to a crowded audience, in a meeting house in Eagle-street, Holborn. His discourse and his manner of delivering it were much applauded.

May 6. Letters patent passed the great seal to John Sebastian Clair, for a new invented machine, which he calls an Index Balance, for weighing money or goods, without shifting the weights. It is upon the steelyard principle, but, by means of a moveable quadrant, nicely divided and properly balanced, a fixed index points to the precise weight.

A like patent passed the seal to John Crumplen, for an engine for throwing and dressing silk.

The claim of William Sinclair, Esq; of Rafter, to the title of Earl of Caithness, was heard before the House of Peers, and admitted; he appearing to be the lineal descendant of Will. E. of Caithness, who died in the year 1505.

May 8. Five thousand pounds were ordered by parliament to be paid to Mr. Cha. Irvine, (the same who invented the marine chair, some years ago) for his discovery of making salt water fresh and wholesome at sea.

All our accounts from the several parts of England give the most promising accounts of the approaching harvest, as there has not been a finer prospect for many years.

Some time before the benefit of a celebrated Opera Dancer, a noble Lord (Lord C—) being very lucky the night before at Almack's, enclosed a 500l bank note to the lady for a ticket; in consequence of which his Lordship received the following billet next morning.

"my Lord,
"If your note was designed as a compliment to my stage abilities, I think it too much; if as the prelude to a connexion, I think it too little; either way, you see, I am induced to return it, which I do, however, with many compliments for your good opinion of me.

To the Printer of the General Evening Post.
London, May 10.

BY private intelligence transmitted to me, on Saturday last, from the Court of Berlin, I have it from undoubted authority, that the Emperor of Germany, the Empress of Russia, and the King of Prussia, have entered into an eventual partition-treaty, which has for its main object the total extinction of the Ottoman Empire out of Europe, in case the peace-congress at Bucharest, in Moravia, shall break up without the Porte's assenting to the very reasonable articles which are now proposed to him. I only mention this circumstance, because, if the Porte should not subscribe to these articles, as it is generally apprehended he will not, and in consequence of the tripartite league abovementioned, should be driven entirely out of Europe: then for the honour of the Christian Religion be it spoken, two of the four quarters of the globe, namely, Europe and America, will be entirely under the Regal sway of CHRISTIAN MONARCHS, and those only twelve in number.

Sir, you and I are both old enough to remember, that a few months before the Chevalier Charles Stuart embarked upon the mad cap invasion of England, the war before last, Louis the Fifteenth gave this young adventurer his Royal word, that he would make him a King. It is true, indeed, and your readers may be absolutely assured, that the French King has at last actually kept his word with the Chevalier—but how!—not by making him King of Great-Britain, as he was made to believe. No, Mr. Editor, he has fobbed him off with the little kingdom of Corsica. And it is this event which was the real cause of the arrival of the Ge-nese Nobleman at the Secretary of State's Office on Tuesday last.—The purport of his mission is, to communicate to our Ministry, by way of advice, that a fleet of Spanish and French frigates had been for two days cruising near the island of Corsica; that the Chevalier Charles Stuart was on board that fleet, and on his landing on that island, was to be finally proclaimed KING OF CORSICA.

OUR correspondent Mercator desires us to inform the author of the letter inserted in this paper, signed C. on the affairs of Grenada, that he intends to give him an answer speedily, when he hopes to convince the public, that the administration of the French Roman Catholic subjects into the house of assembly, and the King's Council is an unconstitutional measure, which cannot be justified by the Secretary of State for the Colonies, nor any of his dependants. An unavoidable absence is the only reason why Mercator has remained so long silent.

MACHINE to dress FLOUR.

THE King has been pleased to grant unto JOHN MILNE, of Manchester, his royal letters patent, for all his colonies in America, &c. for the sole making and vending his new invented machine, for the dressing the flour of wheat, &c. which machines are found to be of great utility by all persons who have them in use; they not only make the flour look better, but also make it use better, as they make it more lively, and will dispatch three times as much business, in the same time, as the common method of bolting with cloths, and they will do that business at one operation, which, to be done with cloths, requires several, for they will dress fine flour, two seconds and three seconds, and clean the bran at one operation; or they may make two sorts, or only one sort of flour, by moving the partitions within the box just as the person pleases who attends it; and considering their duration are much cheaper than cloths. Also, his new invented machines for cleaning wheat, barley, &c. which takes out seeds, dust, &c. and will break and destroy smut-balls, and give a brightness and lustre to the grain.

The said machines are to be sold by JOHN MILNE, and Co. at their house in Manchester; or by applying to James Milne (son of the said John Milne) who is now at Mr. Needham's, opposite Beckmans-Slip, New-York.

Just IMPORTED, in the last Vessels from England, A fresh COLLECTION of the above mentioned MACHINES.

TO THE PUBLICK.
HAYING had an experience of Mr. Milne's new invented patent machines, for bolting flour and cleaning wheat, at my mill, where they are now to be seen at work, at Long-Island, I think it my duty to declare, that they are a curious, expeditious, and elegant contrivance, and what, in my opinion, will answer every purpose for which they are designed, and likewise be of great service to the publick.

JACOB SEBRING, Jun.

TO THE PUBLICK.
I think it incumbent on me, for the good of the community, and particularly of those who are manufacturers of flour, to declare, that upon trial I have found Mr. Milne's machine answer the purposes of bolting, for which they are intended, infinitely better than the old method of doing it with cloths, as they really bolt three times as quick without the least exaggeration, and are a very ingenious contrivance.

WILLIAM DEANE, Coachmaker,

INFORMS the publick in general, and his customers in particular, that he carries on his business as usual, in Broad-street, where he makes all sorts of coaches, landaus, phaetons, curricles, chairs and chaises; likewise all sorts of harness and saddlers work, as also painting, gilding and japanning in the neatest and most elegant manner.—And as he finishes all carriages whatever in his own shop, without applying to any other, he is likewise determined to make them as good, sell them as cheap, and be as expeditious as there is a possibility; and to convince the publick of the truth of what he asserts, he will make any piece of work that is required, equal to any imported from England, and will sell it at the prime cost of that imported, by which means those who are pleased to favour him with their custom will save the freight, insurance, and the expences naturally attending in putting the carriages to rights after they arrive. And as a further inducement, he will engage his work for a year after it is delivered, that is, if any part gives way or fails by fair usage, he will make it good at his own expence. Those advantages cannot be obtained on carriages imported. He has now a considerable stock of the best of all materials fit for making carriages.—For the above reasons, he most humbly requests the encouragement of the publick, which will be most gratefully acknowledged by him.

Said DEANE paints and repairs all manner of old work very reasonably; and has for sale, just finished, a new phaeton, and four new chairs.

THIS is to certify the publick, that I Barly Clarke of South-Carolina, planter, having been afflicted with that terrible distemper the cancer, in my lip, for the space of fifteen years, under the care of several eminent physicians, which has cost me a large sum of money, but to no purpose, until I was recommended to that famous doctor Kemmena, now living in Maiden-Lane, in the city of New-York—by Capt. Charles Chadwick of New-London, who was cured of the like distemper by him, almost three years ago; all which time he was persuading me to apply to this doctor Kemmena, until I consented, and am now effectually cured; which was done in the space of four weeks, by the application of his famous plaster; in which time I have also seen three different persons cured of the cancer by him.—The names of whom, are Daniel Davis of Satacut, on Long-Island, who had his whole under lip taken away, and in the space of a fortnight closed it up with sound flesh, so that it scarcely left a scar.—Likewise Captain Rite of Bermuda, and Mrs. Nancy Curshaw of Long-Island, who, I am able to testify, were effectually cured: But, as the publick is greatly injured by the report of some malicious persons, who say that the cancers taken out by the said doctor Kemmena returns again, which I have heard also; but, I am able to prove it to be false; and if any person will take the trouble to call upon me at the house of doctor Kemmena, (during my stay, which will be until Sunday the second day of August) I shall fully satisfy him of what I have here asserted, and then shall return home (God willing) effectually cured. Therefore, out of regard for the publick, and to do justice to the doctor, I recommend all persons to him that are afflicted with such distemper.

BARTLY CLARKE.
